Welcome to the 10th annual coverage on the India-based digital publishing solutions industry. Here, we survey the latest products, services and technologies available from Indian companies, and also take a close look at a unique startup business and the evolution of e-learning. All this, plus a projects showcase and a brief retrospective on the industry. To celebrate this 10th anniversary issue, we also debut a new online series, The Expert Series, containing articles penned by selected vendors, which examines critical topics impacting both the publishing and digital solutions industries. Click through to read the stories, or browse the special report in our Scribd reader below.
